Coco Cabana, Palm Springs,

This beautifully reimagined South Palm Springs condo exudes sophistication and modern style. Taken down to the studs and completely rebuilt, every inch has been thoughtfully redesigned with high-quality finishes and attention to detail. The floor plan was expertly reconfigured to maximize both space and the stunning mountain views from every angle, creating a bright, open, and airy living environment. One of the standout features is the expansive, private backyard--walled, gated, and designed for true indoor-outdoor living. It includes a cozy built-in firepit, perfect for relaxing under the desert stars or entertaining guests in style. The property also includes two covered carports, offering convenience and privacy rarely found at this price point. Coco Cabana in Palm Springs is a boutique mid-century modern community nestled in the desirable South Palm Springs area. Originally constructed in 1955 as a garden apartment hotel by architect Charles W. Doty, it was converted into 31 condominiums in the late 1970s. The complex spans five acres of lushly landscaped grounds and offers amenities such as a pool, spa, and two lighted tennis courts. Coco Cabana's location offers stunning views of the San Jacinto Mountains and is within walking distance to hiking trails, shopping, and dining options. It's a serene retreat that embodies the quintessential Palm Springs lifestyle, combining historical significance with modern-day amenities. The property is fee-simple, meaning you own the land beneath your unit, and it allows for short term vacation rentals with a minimum stay of seven days, making it appealing for both homeowners and investors. Coco Cabana's blend of historical significance, modern amenities, and prime South Palm Springs location make it a sought-after community for those looking to experience the quintessential Palm Springs lifestyle.
