Desert Park Estates, Palm Springs,

An icon of design awaits at this chic Mid-Century residence where no expense was spared. This architecturally significant home by Hugh Kaptur has been meticulously renovated, seamlessly blending timeless desert modernism with magazine-worthy style and craftsmanship. The house is only waiting for two things: YOU and a feature in ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST. Natural light pours in through clerestory windows, while oversized Fleetwood sliders including a stunning 10-foot door in the primary suite erase the line between indoors and out. A spacious covered patio, lush new landscaping, and a relaxing pool and spa create your own private Palm Springs retreat. The kitchen is a showstopper! featuring Ceaserstone countertops, custom cabinetry, + a full suite of Samsung appliances. Bathrooms have been completely reconfigured and redesigned, with custom vanities, sleek tile work, and thoughtful details. Throughout the home, you'll find 24x48 tile flooring, recessed lighting, polished concrete, and smooth wall finishes. Outside, enjoy new fencing, a firepit lounge, built-in gas BBQ, and drought-tolerant landscaping. The garage has been transformed into a flexible studio or lounge with a large slider, gym wall, insulation, lighting, and a mini-split A/C, while still maintaining the functionality as a garage! Additional highlights include EV charging, upgraded electrical panel, and Lloyd fireplace as a nod to the home's architectural roots. Every inch of this home has been touched with intention and artistry, modern yet organic, bold yet serene. A rare opportunity to own a piece of architectural history that lives like new.
