The Dr. Richard Henry House (1966) by Cliff May. Perched on a private 1.3-acre promontory in Lower Bel Air, this gated single-story estate is one of Cliff May's most discreet and rarely seen masterpieces. Preserved in its original condition, it presents a rare opportunity to restore or reimagine an unaltered example of his iconic California ranch style. Walls of glass frame uninterrupted panoramic views from Downtown Los Angeles to the Pacific Ocean, with the Getty Museum perfectly in sight. Inside, soaring post and beam ceilings, expansive skylights, and a striking indoor pool pavilion showcase Cliff May's seamless integration of architecture and landscape, where sunlight and greenery blur the lines between indoors and out. This is a rare chance to acquire a pristine Cliff May residence, an enduring piece of architectural history ready for its next chapter.
