The charm of the Upper East has always held a certain magic, and this 1913 Craftsman is no exception. From the moment you arrive, its timeless architecture hints at the history within, and once inside, the story of character renewed for modern living unfolds. Thoughtful restoration has preserved the home's soul while elevating it with custom carpentry, designer details, and even a state-of-the-art see-through elevator. Light pours through generous windows, brightening living spaces designed for connection and comfort. At the heart of the home, the gourmet kitchen features high-end appliances and elegant finishes, opening through French doors to the outdoors for effortless al fresco dining. Upstairs, three bedrooms create a private wing for rest and retreat, complemented by an additional office that could also be utilized as a bedroom. The primary suite offers leafy treetop views, while additional bedrooms provide comfort and versatility for guests. Outdoors, a spacious deck invites you to savor Santa Barbara's weather, while a spa offers relaxation beneath the stars. Plans and permits for a two story two bedroom two bath ADU and a pool expand the possibilities, with potential Mills Act tax benefits adding to the property's appeal. Just moments from the Mission, Rose Garden, and downtown, this is a rare blend of history, design, and location.
