4 Bedroom, 3.00 Bathroom, 3,408 sqft
Residential on 1 Acres

N/A, Covina,

Welcome to 2450 Cameron Ave, a one-of-a-kind custom-built sanctuary nestled in the hills with sweeping panoramic views of the San Gabriel Valley. Set on nearly an acre, this private hillside compound offers rare seclusion, structural integrity, and lifestyle versatility in one extraordinary package.

Over $400,000 in upgrades have been thoughtfully invested into this home, with every improvement designed for long-term functionality, comfort, and future flexibility. The property has been carefully planned and meticulously maintained, with documentation supporting its high-quality craftsmanship.

Privacy is a key feature here—this home sits well above street level, with gated access, mature landscaping, and intentional separation between structures and outdoor spaces, creating a peaceful retreat that feels tucked away from it all, yet remains close to everyday conveniences.

Inside, the home features two HVAC systems: a 3.5-ton 16 SEER Rheem central unit with a newer furnace and water heater, and a mini-split system installed in 2022 providing additional zoned comfort. Together, they efficiently cover the home's expansive 3,400+ sq ft layout. Copper plumbing runs throughout, and five strategically placed skylights—in the game room, garage, two in the bedroom, and one between the kitchen and dining areaâ€”fill the home with natural light while reducing energy use.

The backyard is an entertainerâ€™s dream. A custom pavilion with stone veneer, oversized beams, and decorative hardware anchors the outdoor living space, complete with a built-in pizza oven and barbecue area. Thereâ€™s also a designated space thoughtfully set aside should a future owner wish to install a jacuzzi or similar feature.

Sustainability shines with 23 mature fruit trees, including exotic varieties like Peruvian apple cactus, passionfruit, jujube, and figs, alongside citrus and stone fruits. The orchard has been organically maintained, with produce harvested and frozen for year-round use. Garden beds include leafy greens, herbs, and seasonal cropsâ€”perfect for those who appreciate self-sufficiency and homegrown living.

Whether youâ€™re drawn to the privacy, the craftsmanship, or the lifestyle this compound supports, 2450 Cameron Ave represents a rare opportunity to own a truly exceptional and secluded estate in the San Gabriel foothills.
