Monarch Bay Terrace (MBT), Dana Point,

Panoramic views, strong lines, and unmatched privacy converge in this dramatic single-level Monarch Terrace residence. Architected by John Galbraith and dubbed "Olympia Pacifica", this property exemplifies contemporary living, with generous use of concrete, stainless steel, and glass melding together for maximum impact. The main area, anchored by a massive fireplace, is framed by large panes on three sides, offering vast views of the coastline, city lights, and the ocean beyond. This space combines the living, dining, and kitchen sections and features multiple access points to the exterior. The expansive backyard is elevated yet private, with a pool, spa, and raised patio area - a perfect vantage point for enjoying sunsets over the Pacific. Dual primary bedrooms are also water-facing, both opening to the exterior. Secondary bedrooms, laundry, and a home office complete the main level. The rare subterranean garage is large enough to fit four vehicles and features an additional area that could easily accommodate a workshop, storage, or home gym. Rarely do properties of this pedigree, with both views and privacy, become available.
