Recent Price Adjustment! Welcome to 4610 El Nido in the desirable community of Rancho Santa Fe. Located directly across from San Dieguito Park, in The Covenant of Rancho Santa Fe, and permitted for up to 3 horses, this exceptional home combines modern convenience, spacious living, and unique amenities. Designed for both everyday living and entertaining, the open-concept kitchen features stainless steel appliances, a gas stove, an electric oven, and a breakfast seating area. The adjacent dining room includes a bar with a wine fridge, while the family room boasts built-in shelving, and both the living room and family room have charming wood-burning fireplaces, and large double ceiling fans. A bonus room above the living room provides additional office space with storage and closet. The primary suite opens directly to the patio and pool area and includes built-ins, a large, tiled shower, an electric fireplace over the bathtub, and ample closet storage. Additional bedrooms include a nursery/playroom with built-ins and outdoor access, as well as two bedrooms with large closets connected by a Jack and Jill bathroom.

The home offers practical features such as a spacious laundry room with a double-stacked washer and dryer, a pedestal washing machine for small loads, and an outdoor courtyard with storage. The two-car garage includes an attached bathroom and a Tesla charger. With paid-off solar, a gas and electric furnace allowing for easy switching between the two, and two AC/heat zones with variable modes, this home is designed for efficiency. With safety in mind, it is also wired for an alarm system. Outdoor living is enhanced by a pool, fountain, and a courtyard with an outdoor fireplace off the primary suite. The backyard is lined with established jacaranda trees, creating a picturesque setting. For those with equestrian or agricultural interests, the property is permitted for three horses and livestock and features a full corral along with a two-story, tiled roof chicken coop equipped with storage, separate sections, power, and water. Additionally, the home includes a septic system with two full-sized tanks and two leach fields. A 100-amp sub panel near the pool equipment allows for easy installation of a heater, with gas piping already in place. This thoughtfully designed home offers an exceptional combination of space, sustainability, and a prime location.
